FORMER SHAREHOLDERS PURCHASE LAUNDRY

Chain O' Lakes Laundry
Property Is Sold in Federal Court Monday

WILL ASK DISCHARGE OF RECEIVER

About one half of the original shareholders in the Chain O' Lakes Laundry & Dry Cleaning company, of Antioch, purchased the property Monday when it was sold in federal court in Chicago, following bankruptcy proceedings instituted some months ago.

The committee acting as trustees for the shareholders are E. A. Grutzmacher, Antioch; Charles Ackerman, Chicago, and J. Nevelle, Chicago. The group plans a re-organization within the next few days at which time they will ask that the receiver, Judge Ben Miller, be discharged.

A dry cleaning equipment has been purchased and the contract for the erection of a cement block building to house the same has been awarded to John Polyeck, Zenda, Wis., contractor who was one of the original shareholders. The new addition to the laundry building will be 12x22 feet and will be completed within the next ten days, according to Manager Grutzmacher.

Annual 4-H Club Roundup to be Held Aug. 12

With over 200 boys enrolled in 4-H projects, boys' 4-H club work in Lake county the largest on record, and with the Aurora fair starting August 15, it is necessary to set the date of the 4-H club roundup on August 12 in order that the best stock in the county may be selected to be taken to Aurora and Springfield fairs. It is expected that all farm organizations in the county will join in staging the county-wide picnic at that time.

Practically all of the boys enrolled in 4-H club work have their projects well under way and there is certainly a fine lot of calves, pigs, sheep and poultry in the county, according to Farm Advisor H. C. Glickerson. All livestock will be ear-tagged with a special 4-H club tag.

Albert Herman, assistant 4-H club leader, as been busy distributing disease free seed corn to the boys enrolled in the corn club.

Mother's Club Ends Season With Successful Banquet

The third annual Mother and Daughter banquet, held at the M. E. church hall Tuesday by the Mothers' club, was attended by 137 mothers and daughters. A fine dinner, served by the Ladies' Aid, in the hall decorated in green and yellow, was greatly enjoyed.

The speaker of the evening, Miss Packer, gave a vital speech, brief and direct, every remark containing a maximum of meaning, with no unnecessary words to bore her listeners, as sometimes happens. Several delightful musical numbers were rendered by Miss Patricia Kennedy and Miss Eleanor Meyer.

The Mothers' club feels that this successful event was a fitting close to its club year.

Plan Improvements of Lake Region to Draw Fair Crowds

In anticipation of the great throngs expected to visit the lake resort region during the World's Fair at Chicago in 1933, the Fox Lake chamber of commerce, under the leadership of President E. H. White, has launched an extensive program for long term improvements, and a comprehensive program of summer activities in the vicinity of Fox Lake.

"This community is on the threshold of a great change," Mr. White is quoted as saying in the Herald and Examiner. "The Chain O' Lakes country is now more than ever being brought to the attention of Chicagoans as the location for one of the finest summer resort and recreation centers in the Middle West."

The world-famous lotus beds, and the beauty of the Chain-O-Lakes region will be certain to draw tourists from many countries during the 1933 World's fair, as every year more vacationists and Chicago residents flock to the lake region during the summer months. If present plans for dredging and improving the lakes are carried through, and a state park is created, there is little doubt that this region will be favored by the Fair crowds.

H. S. BOY WINS IN NATIONAL ESSAY CONTEST

Fred Griffin, a junior in the department of vocational agriculture at the Antioch high school, won the fifth award in a national essay contest conducted by Swift and company, of Chicago, according to word received recently. The essay was of Fred's own selection and he entitled it "A Great Industry Based Upon the Preparation and Distribution of Consumers' Products from Raw Farm Products."

As a reward for this high distinction, the Antioch chapter of the Future Farmers of America presented Fred with a small sweater insignia of the national chapter. The Swift and company prize was a check for $10.

Fred is a second degree member in the local chapter. His essay will be found printed elsewhere in this issue.

STRIPE VS. OBEY CASE POSTPONED

Preliminary hearing of the cases of R. H. Stripe, president of the Waukegan Taxpayers Association, and William J. Obey, chairman of the Lake county board of supervisors, scheduled to be heard today before Justice Harry Hoyt, has been postponed until May 22, it was announced this morning.

Stripe posted a $500 bond on a peace warrant, while Obey is out on $1,000 bond pending the hearing on a charge of attempt to commit mayhem. The exchange of warrants followed trouble at the court house when Mr. Stripe insisted upon his right to address the board of supervisors April 28th.

Smith to Address Men's Club on Law Enforcement

"Some of the Difficulties of Law Enforcement in Lake County," will be the subject of State's Attorney A. V. Smith's address to the Men's club at the M. E. church tomorrow evening. S. E. Pollock is in charge of the program, and has arranged for other informal entertainment.

A dinner will precede the address, and will be served at 6:30 Standard Time, by the ladies of the M. E. church, in the church hall.

FANS SEE FAST BOUTS AT PALACE OPENING

Good Card Is Scheduled for Second Show Friday Night

A large crowd of boxing fans who braved the stormy weather last Friday night to see Mickey Rafferty's first boxing show of the season at the Antioch Palace were rewarded by witnessing eight fast bouts that give promise of the kind of high class shows that are to be staged by Promoter Rafferty and Matchmaker Henry Wallenwein during the summer.

The wind-up bout between Ernie Kratochvil, Wisconsin golden gloves champ, and Jack Delesio, Chicago mauler, was won by Kratochvil in three exciting rounds and was pronounced one of the best bouts of the show.

Four Waukegan battlers were returned winners, including Oscar Oshanian and Don Merriman.

Only one 4-rounder was necessary, Jack Akralian, West Pullman A. C., Chicago, shading Eddie Garlow, Kenosha Eagles, in the second attraction.

The officials for the evening were: Matchmaker and announcer—Henry F. Wallenwein. Judges—Ed Cliff Jr. and Hank Sayre. Timekeeper—Herman Schuffler. Attending physician—Dr. Beebe. A. A. U. Inspector—Inspector Wolfe.

Good Card for Friday.
Another good card has been announced for tomorrow night when George Haberska, A. A. U. junior champion, will appear in the feature bout with Vic Petracca, of the Summerdale athletic club, and Vic's brother, Billy, will take on Oscar Oshanian in the semi-windup. A real heavyweight is among the preliminaries—Frank Peckley, Waukegan, and John Molinar, Chicago, two boxers just under the 200-pound mark, who are slated to start the show at 7:30 Standard Time.

CLYDE MCCOY'S BAND COMING TO VALENCIA BALLROOM SATURDAY

This orchestra is recognized as one of America's greatest dance orchestras, and one of the best known. McCoy's is only one of the really great bands appearing at the Valencia, as Manager Gorgan has brought many top-liners to the popular Waukegan ballroom during the past few months, including Paul Whiteman, Coon-Sanders, Wayne King, and others of equal fame. Valencia patrons are pleased that Clyde McCoy is to appear there Saturday night.

WIFE OF FORMER PASTOR IS DEAD

Word has been received that Mrs. J. A. Aiken, wife of a former Antioch Methodist church pastor, passed away in Marengo this week. A number of friends from Antioch attended the funeral services at Marengo this afternoon.

Reverend Aiken was pastor in the M. E. church from 1900 until 1903, and was instrumental in the erecting of the present church, which was built in 1901. One daughter, Mrs. Edna Baldwin, is a missionary in Burma.

Word has been received of the unexpected death of Fred Aiken, Kenosha, a former resident of Hickory. He leaves a wife and three sons.

Proposed Tax on Tobacco Meets With Disapproval

Committee Recommends A Veto on New Income Tax Measures

Another scheme to increase the burden of Illinois taxpayers another $20,000,000 is before the legislature at Springfield this week. The joint revenue commission has just approved a tax on cigarettes.

A 2-cent tax on every package of twenty cigarettes will result if the proposed bill, calling for a 1-mill tax on each cigarette sold in Illinois and a 10 per cent tax on cigars and tobaccos, which is being drafted for presentation in the house next week, is passed.

Fear that the passing of the bill will give rise to bootlegging and smuggling in a new field has been expressed by leaders, as the states bounding Illinois have no such law.

Albert Pines of J. Pines & Sons, tobacco jobbers, termed the proposed bill "a silly procedure."

"The bill calls for a tax of 2 cents a package on cigarettes which are already taxed 6 cents by the federal government at the source—a tax of 8 cents on a package of cigarettes that now retails for 15 cents," Mr. Pines continued.

"The jobber sells the package of cigarettes at 11 1/2 cents, so you can see that the 2 cents will have to be passed on to the consumer."

"You can imagine the results. Retailers will have to pay the taxes. There will be agents to collect it. More agents to see that the retailers are charging the tax. Still more agents to enforce an embargo at various state borders."

Thumbs Down on Income Tax.
15-7 vote recommending that the proposed income tax measure do not pass was turned in by the committee, after a hearing on the senate bills, but an attempt is being made to get the measure on the house calendar, regardless. They were passed by the senate two weeks ago, with bitter protest from Cook county. A similar fight on this issue was waged two years ago, but the bill was defeated in the final roll.

Conference Music Groups to Unite at Third Festival

Raymond Dvorak, University Director, Again Conducts

Ten conference schools will unite their musical forces next Monday at Libertyville for the third annual conference music festival.

The first festival, which was held at Bensenville two years ago, was a decided departure from the former means employed to stimulate musical interest—competition. Principal L. O. Bright, originator of the plan, and other musical directors were astonished at the results of the experiment—even they were unprepared for the thrill which the effect of the combined groups produced upon the audience, and upon the members of the organizations. Thus was opened for schools of this conference, unlimited possibilities in the field of music.

It was evident at the second festival at Libertyville that the musical interest and standards of all the schools had been raised, resulting from the inspiration of the previous year.

Students Inspired.
From the type of compositions selected, it is clearly seen that efforts are being continued to work out improvements annually, and that the directors have confidence in the students' ability to master the music.

Raymond F. Dvorak, director of the men's glee club at the University of Illinois, again is to be guest conductor. There is no doubt that the success of the first festival was due largely to the power and inspiration of his personality. L. O. Bright is general chairman of the committee; Miss Hedvig Rice, Libertyville, will have charge of the vocal groups, Lynn Hoffman manages the instrumental divisions, and H. E. Underbrink will supervise the local arrangements.

Antioch will be represented in the festival by about a hundred students, who will form a part of the 300-voice chorus, 200-piece band, 150-piece orchestra, and boys' and girls' glee clubs of 150 voices each.

RESOLUTION ASKS RECOVERY OF COUNTY FUNDS ILLEGALLY SPENT

Taxpayers' Association Cites Violation In Employment of Supervisor to Superintend Construction Work

OBEY WAS PAID $12 A DAY, RECORDS DISCLOSE

Efforts on the part of the Waukegan Taxpayers Association to recover $5,843 in Lake county public funds, which it is claimed was paid illegally to Supervisor William J. Obey in 1923 and 1924, is revealed today in a resolution wherein the Taxpayers group makes public demand that the entire amount unlawfully received by Obey be returned by him to the Lake county treasury.

The employment of Supervisor Obey as superintendent of construction when alterations and additions were made to the court house eight years ago, is cited by the Taxpayers as a direct violation of Chapter 102 of the Illinois statutes.

The resolution also asks the recall of Supervisor Obey as chairman of the Lake county board.

The text of the Taxpayers' resolution appears on page three of today's edition of the News.

OTHER DISCLOSURES TO FOLLOW

The disclosure of the illegal manner of handling public funds in the Obey matter is only the first of many irregularities to be bared by the Taxpayers association, officials of the group and investigators declare. Startling revelations regarding the misuse and waste of public funds are to be made in support of the claim that over half a million dollars are wasted annually in Lake county.

Legion and Auxiliary Are Striving to Put Over Record Sale

"In Flanders field the poppies blow—" Every loyal heart thrills and bleeds to that phrase—and every person in Antioch will be given the opportunity to do his or her bit for the disabled veterans of the great war by purchasing and wearing a poppy Saturday, May 23, when Poppy Day will be observed in Antioch.

The American Legion and the American Legion auxiliary are joining forces to put over a record Poppy Day. The poppies are being obtained by the Legion committee, with Ray Webb as chairman, but auxiliary members will do the selling, under the direction of Mrs. Evan Kaye, chairman, and Mrs. John Horan, publicity chairman.

Every poppy sold this year will be veteran made. A change in material from paper to cloth was made last year as it was found that many of the disabled buddies had trouble in making the paper poppies while they could make poppies with less difficulty and with greater speed with the cloth materials.

The proceeds will be used for the service and relief funds of the state and local department of the American Legion, and a very small portion will go to the veterans who made the poppies, to be used as spending money which they would receive in no other way.

"Death by Unknown Means" Is Verdict of Coroner's Jury

Find No Proof to Support Murder Theory in Death of Wehrenberg

That Henry H. Wehrenberg came to his death by unknown means was the verdict of the coroner's jury following the inquest held at Strang's undertaking rooms here today.

A murder theory and one of suicide were advanced at the time that Wehrenberg's body was found slumped in his car near Lake Villa April 13, with a revolver under his hands.

Wehrenberg, a Libertyville carpenter, had no reason for killing himself, according to relatives, and in the light of further investigations, showing evidences of a struggle in the car, the murder theory seems more probable, although no motive has been found.

The declaration is astonishing, to say the least, and should be a matter of grave concern to the 100,000 residents of Lake county who contribute over $6,000,000 to the public tax fund.

News Co-Operates in Campaign

Realizing that the average taxpayer does not take the time, or has not the opportunity individually to understand the various intricate operations of various taxing bodies, and therefore often misunderstands the purpose and actions of officials, the Taxpayers Association has launched a campaign, educational in its nature, designed to enlighten the taxpayer as to how his money is spent. If irregularities and waste exist, it is high time that such practices in Lake county should cease.

In the interests of more than 100,000 people who call Lake county their home, and for the cause of good government, the Antioch News can do no less than co-operate 100 per cent.

NEXT WEEK—Read in the News another startling story of illegal squandering of public funds.

Antioch H. S. Places Second In Judging Contest

The vocational department of agriculture of the Antioch township high school came the nearest to winning the northeastern Illinois championship in livestock and grain judging in a recent competition with twenty-one other schools; that it has ever reached since the establishment of the department in 1920.

The Sandwich high school won the banner by a margin of only 8 points, scoring 3,920 points, while Antioch scored 3,912. Woodstock had a score of 2,981, Marengo, 2,969, and DeKalb, 2,954. These were the five highest teams of the contest.

Antioch ranked first in grain, second in corn, fifth in dairy, tenth in fat stock, and eleventh in poultry.

The boys who built up the large score are Ward Edwards, George Dunford, Arthur Griffin, Elmer Sheehan, Kenneth Denman, William Yopp, Paul Nielsen, William Nielsen, Lloyd Barnstable, Roland Glasman, Harry Johnson and Norman Barthel.

C. L. Kutil, instructor of vocational agriculture, is the coach. The boys will represent Antioch at the Illinois state contest at the University of Illinois next month.

ANTIOCH BASEBALL CLUB ORGANIZES

An organization of the local Antioch baseball club was effected at a meeting Sunday afternoon, with Richard Folbrink as acting manager. The membership has not been completed but it is expected that within the next week more will join the team. Down is in logical line for chief pitcher.

The first game has been scheduled for Sunday, May 24, with the Millburn A. C. at Millburn.

GETTING OUR MONEY'S WORTH IN TAXES

Thirty years ago the population of the United States was 81,000,000, and the average person contributed $19.39 in taxes to support the government.

In 1928, the last year for which complete official statistics are available, the population was 120,000,000 and the per capita tax had increased to $105.20. A treasury deficit of $500,000,000 follows the last session of the federal congress which levied $10,200,000,000. Who is going to pay?

As public taxes become inadequate to pay for the ever-increasing public expense piled up by an army of lawmakers, too few of our legislators try to figure how to hold down or reduce the permanent financial overhead that is being heaped upon the states and the nation, but instead they invent new ways to spend more public money. They increase taxes on existing business that can stand a further burden and find new methods of taxation not heretofore devised. More public money to spend means more bureaus, more government jobs, and, in consequence, a greater constituency to return to office the regime in power.

Efficient spending of public funds in Lake county will save taxpayers approximately 10 per cent of tax money, according to officials of the Waukegan Taxpayers Association, who are authority for the statement that about $600,000 are mispent or actually wasted in this county every year.

With the idea of enlisting the co-operation of every Lake county taxpayer in the effort to correct existing conditions, the Taxpayers Association this week begins the publication of an educational program in the Antioch News designed to enlighten the citizen as to how his tax money is spent. In order to avoid the pitfalls in the future it is necessary to bring to light many of the errors of the past. The recital of some of these errors is not going to be pleasant—but, as the "Taxpayers" declare—"You shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

MODERN ROAD TOLLS

Not so many years ago the country was honeycombed with toll roads. The motorist, in the course of a day's travel, could pay out a good many dollars for the privilege of using them.

Now toll roads are few and far between. But the motorist still pays a toll, and a far greater one than he paid in the old days. The modern toll is the gasoline tax.

According to Webster's dictionary, a toll is a tax or due paid for some liberty or privilege, particularly for the privilege of passing over a highway. In states where a 3-cent tax is in effect, the average driver must thus pay a cent every time he goes four miles. Under a 6-cent tax he pays a cent every two miles. In the latter instance, if he drives 400 miles a day, he must pay $2 in tolls.

These tolls now aggregate more than $500,000,000 a year, and they are constantly increasing. Rumbles of 7, 8 and 10-cent tax rates are heard, and even at present the gas tax almost equals the price of fuel in many places. The drivers of the old days did a lot of complaining about toll roads, but, compared to the drivers of the present, they didn't know what a toll really could be!

BUILDING FOR THE FARMER

Today we live in a co-operative age. American industrial supremacy, like American progress and prosperity, has largely resulted from the application of the principle of mass production and distribution to many lines of business.

The troubles of the farmer have to a great degree been caused by a lack of collective effort. Overproduction has resulted from unregulated production. Poor farm prices have been partially the result of the fact that farmers are without the power to bargain.

Only by co-operation and organization can a prosperous agricultural future be assured. When ten thousand or a hundred thousand farmers band together and demand a fair deal and profitable prices for their produce, their chances of getting it are infinitely better than if each farmer did business wholly on his own. The present trend toward co-operative marketing is a bright sign on the agricultural horizon.

The upper grades of the Lake Villa school gave a play, "The Woman in Black," at the hall last Friday evening, and it was very well acted. The third and fourth grades also presented a playlet, "Belling the Cat," which also evidenced good training. Proceeds will be used for some school improvement.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kerr entertained as guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. George Mitchell, Helen Ann, and Mrs. Harriet Mitchell, of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Pettijohn, also of Chicago. Mr. Pettijohn is a nephew of Mrs. Kerr, and is a teacher in the University of Chicago.

The Woman's Club held its annual luncheon at the Lone Oak Inn last week on Tuesday, and forty-five women enjoyed the hospitality of the Inn. A 4-course luncheon was served, and the president, Mrs. Plinch, presided over the meeting which followed. Mrs. Hammond, of Barrington, gave an informal talk about gardening and told of the shrubs and trees best suited to our locality. Mrs. Gibson, vice president of the tenth district, gave a short address, and Mrs. Jensen, of Antioch, sang a group of three songs delightfully. Mrs. Marks, on behalf of the club, presented the retiring president, Mrs. Plinch, with a silver bowl and a basket of flowers. The two pictures to be presented to the third room of the school were on exhibition. Mrs. Nixon, the new president, was introduced, and the meeting adjourned until next fall.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Hooper entertained several guests from Chicago Sunday.

Wide Use of Aluminum

Aluminum is a "rookie" among widely used commercial metals, but it is invading the field of substances that were in use before the birth of Christ, according to the National Geographic society. In its early days aluminum was so scarce and expensive that it was called "silver of clay." Today the United States, the largest producer of the metal, refines more than 200,000,000 pounds annually.

The longest tunnel open for traffic is the Simplon tunnel, through the Alps mountains, which is 94,971 feet, or 12.3 miles. This tunnel was opened in 1905, and a twin tunnel in 1921. The longest in this country is the Cascade tunnel, constructed by the Great Northern railway through the Cascade mountains in the state of Washington. This tunnel is 7.7 miles in length, and was dedicated by President Hoover on January 12, 1929.

LOSING HOPE? TEST KONJOLA

Thousands Declare: "This Is The Medicine I Should Have Had In The First Place"

It's what a medicine does that counts. Read the experience of Mrs. Laura Clements, 913 Rock Island Street, Peoria, Ill., who says: "My system became filled with poisons and I was very weak, run-down and listless. I gained in weight, strength and energy from the beginning of the Konjola treatment. I feel better than I have in years."

Now read the statement of Mr. Geo. N. Smith, 6643 South Fairfield Ave., Chicago, who says: "Neuritis attacked my left arm until I was nearly helpless when I tried to raise it. Five bottles of Konjola relieved me of all the pain of this dread ailment and I am my old self again. Now I am having my wife take Konjola. She, too, is having wonderful results and looks forward to complete relief."

Think It Over

Treasurer Rising, of the town of Antioch, is to be complimented for the clear and complete yearly report as published in the Antioch News of April 30, 1931. Look it over, treasurers of other towns of Lake county.

The Mayor's swan song didn't say a thing about 2-flat water meterless house there was on Dodge avenue, did it?

Will the Water Board tell us about the sum of $139,149.31 the city fathers say is owed them, and tell who ordered these expenses incurred, and just what it does pertain to?

Has the city of Waukegan had more than one audit, one that checked over all items of expenditures, and saw that they were within the appropriation ordinance and statute, and wasn't it that audit that showed up the extra in and for the paving ring?

Is the Board of Supervisors becoming old-fashioned, when they see fit to go back to the ancient and antique gag rule laws of long ago? Or is it because some Board members do not like to talk about soap purchases, printing contracts, or court house construction work in which much had to be done a second time, at much expense to taxpayers?

Isn't it nice to have a city car furnished, so one can have two jobs or positions or whatever they may be called, and then on the side get extra pay for election work?

One wondered who paid for the oil, gas and tires used on these trips.

That telegram sent to Springfield had a phony name on it, so 'tis said. Can it be possible that Lake county politicians are to start using stage names and ideas to try to hoodwink the voters yet awhile?

Are Lake county books getting audited the same way today as they were ten years ago? They were audited by the same firm and person last year as has done it for the past fifteen years. Will we, the taxpayers, get a square deal this year from the Board of Supervisors, or is the same firm to continue doing the auditing? Or is it to be a Bracher type of audit?

Will the good Water Experts tell you why the court house politicians are having spring water at the taxpayers' expense?

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

The Waukegan Taxpayers Association, which very soon will be the leader in a Lake County Taxpayers Association, with local associations in every municipal corporation in the county, firmly believe, based upon their careful investigations, that more than $600,000 in taxes can be saved every year in Lake county and at the same time better economic progress can be made in all departments. In other words, like Ford, they will build a better car for less money.

Please take particular notice that the Waukegan Taxpayers Association publication will appear on all newsstands every Friday at the small price of 5 cents per copy. Salutatory

For many years Lake county has been troubled and severely agitated by the over-burdening tax conditions of its people.

Some three years ago, a body of patriotic Lake county loving citizens decided to see if they could not relieve the capital city of Lake county of some of this terrible burden.

They organized under the Waukegan Taxpayers' Association, and after three years of earnest, heart-breaking work they have succeeded in not only saving Waukegan taxpayers more than a million dollars but have paved the way by changing the form of government for further economic constructive advantages, by changing from the Commission form of government to the Aldermanic.

We are therefore publishing the Lake County Taxpayers' News, which will endeavor to give you the workings of the greatest governing body in the county—the Supervisors.

We have a large amount of information, some of which will appear in every issue, and we hope it will not only be of advantage to you who elect these Supervisors, but will help the Supervisors honorably, diligently and patriotically to represent you as they should.

NO OTHER ALLOWANCE or emolument.

WHEREAS, 3. The President of the Waukegan Taxpayers Association on about April 23, 1931, directed the attention of the board to the above situation but thereupon Supervisor W. J. Obee was unanimously elected chairman of the Board of Supervisors, regardless of the fact that a request was filed that the subject be taken up with State's Attorney A. V. Smith.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Waukegan Taxpayers Association, in public meeting assembled, that in view of the premises, a public demand is hereby made that Supervisor W. J. Obee return to the Lake county treasury $5,843 received by him while employed as superintendent to look after the work done on the addition and alteration to the Court House, and that he file his resignation as a supervisor and chairman of the Board on account of the character of the statute regarding such employment while supervisor.

That, in the event Supervisor W. J. Obee does not volunteer to respect the request of organized taxpayers as above recorded, the matter be referred to the state's attorney, A. V. Smith, with a request to have the state's attorney make such a demand for the repayment of the $5,843 in the name of the people of the state of Illinois, and to take such other action as the state's attorney may deem fit and lawful in the premises.

The Board is petitioned to reconsider its action in electing Supervisor W. J. Obee in view of the facts of record and the statute and court decisions and to vote to declare the chairmanship vacant.

The officers of the association are directed to file copies of this resolution with the officers and Board having to do with the subjects.

Waukegan, Ill., April 28, 1931
Mr. Lew Hendee, County Clerk
Lake County
Court House
Waukegan, Illinois

Dear Sir:

Because of the fact that the taxpayers of Waukegan and Lake county have a constitutional right to petition on and discuss important matters with the Board of Supervisors I had been asked to address them at their meeting on April 29th, 1931.

Will you therefore secure a definite time tomorrow when I can address the full Board for the benefit of taxpayers of Lake county?

I shall appreciate a response from you setting a convenient time for this purpose. I shall not be more than thirty minutes in reading my address. I may add that Col. A. V. Smith, state's attorney of Lake county, endorses my legal request for this opportunity.

Very truly yours,
R. H. STRIPE, President,
Waukegan Taxpayers Association.

Dear Sir:

Your letter of April 28th, 1931, received and contents noted.

I beg to advise that I have made an attempt to get in touch with Mr. Wm. J. Obee, Chairman of the Board of Supervisors of Lake county in order to fix a time when you might address the board at their meeting on April 29, 1931, and up to 4:15 p. m. have been unable to get in touch with him. As you know, in my capacity as County Clerk, I am only ex-officio Clerk of said Board and have no authority to fix a definite time for a hearing, and inasmuch as I have been unable to get in touch with the chairman, I would suggest you appear in person in the Supervisors' room at the Court House at 10 o'clock a. m. on April 29th.

Very truly yours,
LEW A. HENDEE,
County Clerk.

TAXPAYERS' GROUP FACES MANY PROBLEMS, PRESIDENT DECLARES AT ORGANIZATION MEETING

CONSTITUTION SETS FORTH PURPOSE OF TAXPAYERS' ASSN.

Co-operation With Officials Is Keynote of Splendid Document

The constitution under which the Waukegan Taxpayers Association has operated since its organization three years ago, sets forth that the keynote of the association is co-operation to bring about a better understanding between private citizens and those who have been elected to offices of public trust. The constitution is brief and to the point. It has been pronounced a great document, and has been recognized throughout as a practical adaptation of the Golden Rule.

The Constitution.
Name.—The name of this organization shall be the Waukegan Taxpayers Association.

Purpose.—(a) To study the workings of the various taxing and administrative bodies of the city and township of Waukegan.

(b) To study and discuss the needs and purposes of various tax levies.

(c) To work in conjunction with the various taxing bodies and if possible obtain a more economical, constructive and equitable system of tax raising and property valuation.

While the keynote of this association is co-operation, or the practical adaptation of the Golden Rule, every effort is to be made to bring about a possible understanding between the association and the public officials.

In other words, knowing full well that the average tax payer does not take the time or has not the opportunity individually to understand the various intricate operations of the taxing bodies, and therefore often misunderstands the purpose and action of the officials, we desire to become better educated in their problems, which, of course, are our problems, so that we may help them spend our money to the very best advantage.

We also believe it is the duty of all taxpayers to support fully the officials they have elected in every effort to administer fairly, honestly and economically the affairs of the city and township of Waukegan, for the co-operative advantage of all the taxpayers of Waukegan, because we believe the greatest good to the greatest number proves the greatest good to the individual.

Policy of Strict Economy In Expenditures Is Urged

R. H. Stripe, president of the Waukegan Taxpayers Association, in his opening remarks to those present at the organization meeting of the association three years ago stated the purposes of the society to be as follows:

"Ever since the Boston Tea Party, more than 250 years ago, the tax problem has been one of the most important problems of the American people. Today, Waukegan is facing the most serious tax condition that it has ever been called upon to face."

"When the ordinary working man is compelled to pay 10 per cent or more of his income for taxes upon a modest little home, his burden is greater than it should be. The question is, How are we going to lessen it? How are we going to solve this problem?"

"It is true that we must pay taxes for we must have fire departments and police protection. We must have paved streets and water works and we must have schools and various other things that go to make up the necessary modern conveniences and protection."

"We know that all these things cost money and this money must be derived from the people who enjoy them, but in securing these things are we buying too much for our pocket-books? Are the assessments being spread equitably? Is the money being spent with the greatest economy?"

"These are the things that the taxpayers are greatly interested in, and it is for that reason that the taxpayers of the city of Waukegan should be interested in an economical organization that will look into and study the tax question in an intelligent manner to the end that we may not only help the officials who spend our money, but, if possible, lower the tax burden."

"It is then for this purpose we are gathered tonight to see if we may effect an organization that will give us the proper information and assistance that is so badly needed."

Optimism's Value

Optimism is found in the lives of all the men and women who have helped to make life richer and fuller for others. If you want to be of service in the world, keep encouraging those who are despondent. Try to bring brightness and cheer into the dark corners. An optimist is one who looks for the bright side, turning away from the hidden dangers.—Grit.

Gratifying Thought

Let every man be occupied, and occupied in the highest employment of which his nature is capable, and die with the consciousness that he has done his best.—Smith.

Grand Jury's "True Bill"

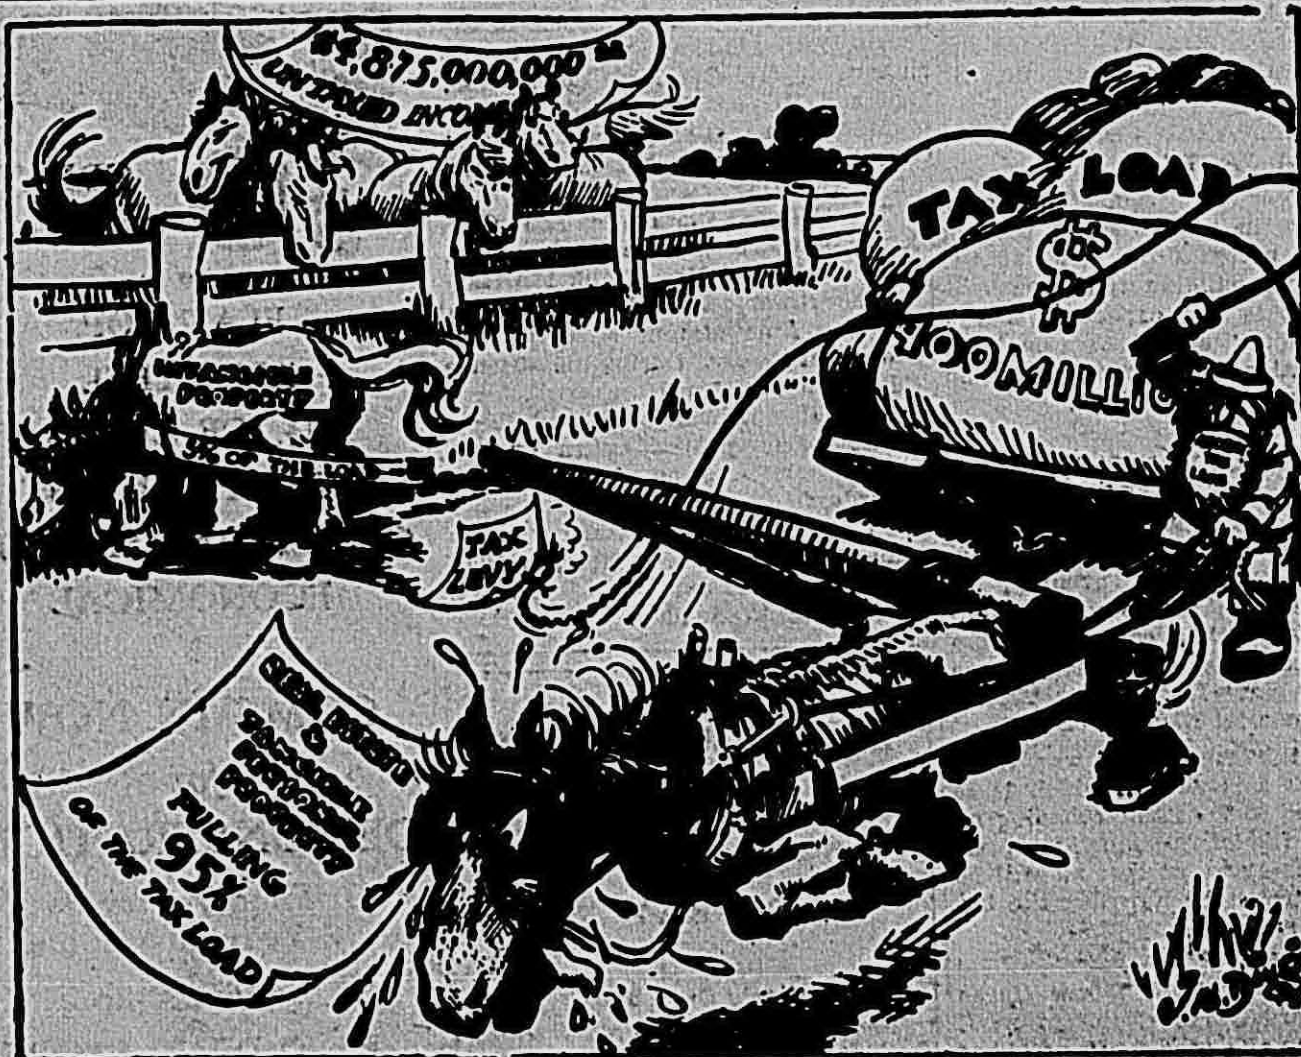

A true bill is the finding of a jury charging a certain person with the commission of an illegal act. In other words, when facts are presented to the grand jury by the prosecutor tending to show that a crime has been committed and a certain person is accused of this crime, that person is indicted and the finding is known as a "true bill."

The Difference

The great difference in the motions of mankind is from the different use they put their facilities to.—Locke.

Beautiful European City

The great charm of Hungary lies in its happy blending of European culture and eastern romance. Budapest, its superb capital, glories in a tradition of more than 1,000 years, but is a modern, imposing, gay and beautiful city with a population of more than 1,000,000. A few hours away picture book scenes of villagers in traditional native costumes, and relics of the Mahomedan invasion from the East, centuries ago, appear on every hand.

The Golden Text was, "If a man think himself to be something, when he is nothing, he deceiveth himself" (Galatians 6:3).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father. Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son; and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ" (Galatians 4: 6, 7).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Through discernment of the spiritual opposite of materiality, even the way through Christ, Truth, man will reopen with the key of divine Science the gates of Paradise which human beliefs have closed, and will find himself unfallen, upright, pure, and free" (p. 171).

Home Bureau Brings Results

Organization of Girls' 4-H Clubs Is Progressing Rapidly

Seventy farm home accounts carried under the direction of the home account specialist of the University of Illinois home economics extension service showed that a similar plan of living in a small town would have cost an average of $2,500 a year. Figures like these and the statement of a La Salle county Home Bureau member, who reduced her grocery bills $5 per month by following Home Bureau meal planning suggestions, may also come from Lake County when the Home Bureau organization is completed.

Since the temporary Home Bureau organization committee has taken over the direction of girls' 4-H club work, they are especially anxious to complete their organization and secure the assistance of a home advisor. The county committee voted to ask the assistance of the interested men of the county and to put on a concentrated drive during the latter part of May.

There are now 185 membership cards signed. With everyone working at one time, the 400 cards could soon be secured, and the organization complete.

Unit or group organizations will be formed in various parts of the county where there are twelve or more interested women. These groups will meet once a month, receiving a lesson or demonstration on some phase of homemaking, such as clothing, foods and nutrition, home furnishing, home management, health, home beautification, home accounts and child care and training.

Sugar From Maple Sap
The amount of maple sap required to make one gallon of maple syrup varies with the trees, the location and the season; according to a bulletin of the United States Department of Agriculture. But in a normal year a barrel of sap—32 gallons—should produce a gallon of syrup or seven and a half pounds of syrup. In many camps, and for many years, it takes as much as 60 gallons of sap to make a gallon of syrup.

Exhibit of Grade School Work to be Shown in Public

Sophomores to Serve at Junior-Senior Prom Are Selected

An exhibit of work performed at the grade school throughout the year will be on display at the school building Friday evening, May 22. Clever work by the primary grades, booklets, designs, projects, collections, and nature displays, by the upper grades, and posters, drawings, and unusual exhibits by the art class will be shown to the public. Today is the age of specialization, all business seers are agreed, and the teachers are anxious for as many parents as possible to attend, and see what their children are specializing in, and in what direction their interests lie.

The names of those sophomores who have been selected to serve at the junior-senior banquet and prom were announced this week. They are: June Allner, Lillian Vykruta, Eileen Osmond, Hazel Hawkins, Wilma Musch, Rhoda McCormack, Ruth Cremin, Billy Brooks, Harold Nelson, Billy Keulman, Spiro Kashevos, Paul Avery, Tony Sciacero, and Donald Snyder.

To be chosen to serve at this annual event is considered to be an honor of no small proportion.

Carrying out the idea that high school seniors should not be allowed to graduate without at least a moderate proficiency in spelling, instructors for the last few weeks have been handing out some of the “catchy” words that so often trip the average person. The final spelling tests are being given this week.

The grade school baseball team lost its first game to Allendale Tuesday night, by two runs, 9-7. The game was exciting, as the score was tied twice, 4-4, in the third inning, and 6-6 in the fifth. Koukol and Merrill, the regular pitchers, again held down the plate. A home run was scored by Bill Grove. The team will run against the freshman team of the high school tonight.

An 18-3 loss was sustained by the high school baseball boys Tuesday afternoon, when they journeyed down

“Round-the-World” Spring Concert Is Cleverly Arranged

In journeying around the world it would be difficult to find many more types of music than were played and sung at the spring music concert at the high school Monday evening.

Typical music from various lands were cleverly worked out by the jazz orchestra and soloists. From Scotch “Annie Laurie,” played by Martin Boyle in kilt, to the tramp songs by Jack Rhoades, ran the melodies.

Several of the selections to be sung at the conference festival were given by the vocal organizations. An outstanding performance of balanced harmony and effective phrasing was given by the mixed chorus and a capella choir, under the direction of E. V. Jeffers.

Among the compositions played by the senior orchestra was the “Minuet in A,” composed by the director, E. V. Jeffers.

Audience Is Pleased.
The audience was impelled to take appreciative notice when the grade school band broke into real music and rhythm at the conclusion of the program. The members of the band have been receiving instruction this year from Hans von Holwede, who also gives lessons at the high school and has charge of the jazz band. Mr. von Holwede is enthusiastic in his work with the students, and much of their proficiency is due to his interest and co-operation.

Viola solos of masterpieces were played by Richard Martin and John Tellalaha, who were also members of the string quartet, which performed some fine harmony arrangements. John Tellalaha received the blue ribbon which he merited by winning first place in the sectional contest at De Kalb.

The lineup was the same as for the previous games, with Brogan and Avery at the pitcher's plate. The first game played with Wauconda several weeks ago, was taken by Antioch, 6-0.

Warren and Elia, of the five conference schools which have organized teams this season, are tied for first place. Antioch has three more games to play, and will take on Warren here Friday afternoon.

New York's Infancy

An article published in the Christian Advocate says: "At the beginning of the nineteenth century the 'commercial metropolis of the United States' occupied only the lower end of Manhattan Island, what is now 'up town' being still made up of spacious farms and country estates, including the little village of Harlem. The actual measurements of the city proper are given as three miles in length (from the Battery to Fourteenth street), one and a half miles in width and eight miles in circumference."

Doggone! You know, we actually believe we're getting the spring fever!—How's the fishing?

Another job that we don't want is that of a radio announcer at a big league ball game.

If there's a man in Antioch who doesn't feel self-conscious the first time he appears on the street in a new straw hat, we'd like to see him!

We know a farm home that is at least 40 years old. It was the old "L" type, so much in vogue in the 90's. That home has been remodeled, modernized and beautified at a cost of slightly more than $1,000. It has added value to the farm and given a world of satisfaction to the family.

Building materials have not been as cheap in years as they are right now. This is the time to build that little home you have always wanted.

A local doctor tells us a patient of his once asked him: "Doctor, how long will it be before I'm well enough to eat the things that don't agree with me?"

Now that the radishes and onions have made their appearance, all eyes are turned toward the opening of the strawberry season.

"A home of your own." You can make it just that with a little time and planning and perseverance. We'll be glad to help you with free plans and estimates at any time.

Believe it or not, we met a man the other day who said that he likes to play bridge.

The Better Homes idea is growing in every section. Rural homes, especially, are being remodeled and modernized. The farmer's wife is asking that her house equipment be made as efficient as the farm equipment. And who can blame her for that?

"Don't you know," cried the motor cop, after the accident, that you should always give a woman driver half the road?"

"I always do," explained the unfortunate man, "when I can find out which half she wants."

A STORY OF PRIVATE INITIATIVE AND LOCAL CAPITAL

Chapter II

"THE LAKE COUNTY EXPERIMENT"

TWENTY-ONE YEARS ago a group of public utility pioneers headed by Mr. Samuel Insull began an experiment in northern Illinois. Their laboratory was Lake County. Their materials were twenty-two towns scattered along the lake shore north of Chicago.

Many of these communities numbered no more than 300 families. Twelve of them had no electric service of any kind. The other ten had electric service of a sort. Service began at five o'clock in the evening—six hours later it stopped. Generating plants were locally owned and financed. They were located in makeshift buildings and coal was stoked by hand. When the weather was bad, customers got out their oil lamps. They knew better than to expect electricity.

It was the aim of the public utility pioneers to supply a higher type of service by centralizing the production of electricity required by these towns. They wanted not only to improve the service rendered the ten communities already receiving electricity. They wanted also to extend service to the twelve communities that had no service of any kind.

Extreme measures were adopted. The ten neighborhood electric plants that had been supplying ten of the towns were purchased. They were abandoned within a short time. To replace them, what was then a gigantic new electric plant had been erected near Lake Michigan. Tons of copper wire were strung on wooden poles to carry the current from the central electric plant to the twenty-two communities. Little substations were built along the way. It was a costly undertaking. Most people shook their heads and predicted failure.

But here is what happened: Within two years, the ten villages that had formerly been getting six-hour service—as well as all but two of the other twelve towns that had had no service of any kind—were receiving electricity twenty-four hours a day. Up to the attic went the old oil lamps.

During these same two years, the users of electricity doubled. And because of quantity production, fuel costs at the generating station were lowered 70%. Other operating costs were reduced 84%. Customers received electricity at lower rates than ever before. More important still, there was money to pay interest on new capital for bettering service and expanding facilities.

The success of this Lake County Experiment demonstrated new electric light and power possibilities in suburban and rural areas. To repeat the original experiment on a grander scale, four relatively small electric and gas companies in northern Illinois combined in August, 1911, to form the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois. During the next few years, 18 additional locally-managed utility companies merged with it. The haphazard part-time service they had been supplying became reliable twenty-four hour service. Rates were lowered several times.

How the Lake County Experiment led to the development of a "superpower network" in northern Illinois and the extension of electric service to an ever-widening area will be told in next week's story.

By Josephine B. Gibson.

Much of the French cook's reputation for excellent food has been gained through the use of skillfully blended sauces. And American women are coming to learn that the success of almost any dish—whether it be meat, fish, entree or dessert—depends greatly upon its accompanying condiment.

In baking meats, many women use the famous barbecue sauce to lend a delightful flavor. The recipe given for this is for a quantity sufficient to prepare a large roast for picnic or church supper use. The sauce, however, may be kept safely in the family ice-box for several weeks if care is taken to keep the container closely covered.

Hollandaise sauce is another great favorite for cauliflower, asparagus, fish and other dishes. Since many women find this sauce extremely difficult to make, the recipe for mock hollandaise—which scarcely can be recognized from the regular sauce—should be welcomed.

Barbecue Sauce.
Chop one onion and a clove of garlic. Add 1/4 cup tomato catsup, 1/4 cup vinegar, 1/4 cup Worcestershire sauce, one medium can of cream of tomato soup, one tablespoon butter and one tablespoon sugar. Add pepper and salt to taste. Cook to the boiling point and use to baste a ham, a roast of lamb or beef, or any meat you wish to barbecue.

Mock Hollandaise Sauce.
Melt 1/4 cup butter and blend thoroughly with two tablespoons flour. Add one egg yolk well beaten, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1/2 cup hot water. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly until thick. Remove from fire and add five tablespoons mayonnaise salad dressing, and 1/4 tablespoons cider vinegar. Serve at once with baked or fried fish, or with asparagus, cauliflower, or brussels sprouts.

Tomato sauce is always a favorite to serve with omelets, cheese dishes, meats or baked bean dishes, and the following recipe for making a quick one is well worth remembering:

Quick Tomato Sauce.
Heat a small can of cream of tomato soup and when it reaches the boiling point, slightly thicken with a small amount of flour blended with butter. A few drops of onion juice may be added if desired.

An easily prepared tartar sauce to accompany fish is made by combining 1/2 cup of sandwich relish and 1/3 cup mayonnaise salad dressing.

Current Sauce.
To make a current sauce for roast lamb, add one glass currant jelly to a cup of brown gravy made from dripping in the pan. This is especially good when slices of the cold roast are warmed in it.

The Children's Lunch

Lusty Youngsters Need
Simple but Healthful
Noon-time Dishes

NO problem is more insistent in the mothers' world than that of a suitable noon-time lunch. "Lunch ready, mother?" is the daily cry as soon as the children open the door. They must have not only what they like to eat but what they should eat.

Heavy meat dishes, rich pastries, or fried foods should be avoided. A cup of hot soup is always good, and with milk, crackers or bread and butter is almost a meal in itself. A salad of lettuce, tomato, celery, or hot green vegetables may also be added, however, and some simple dessert such as sliced fruit, junket, or gelatin. Sliced bananas soaked for a few moments in orange juice and added to the gelatin when it is partially set will make it both nourishing and appetizing.

Instead of a soup, you might serve a hot dish of macaroni with tomato sauce, or rice with mushroom sauce. Bread omelet is another suggestion. Another favorite lunch will be toasted sandwiches with hot cocoa. Bacon with eggs or peanut butter with the addition of lettuce makes a good filling. Cream cheese with sliced bananas and a tart jelly is also a delicious filling.

Here are a few recipes for lunch-on dishes.

Milk Vegetable Soup
3 cups sliced potatoes, carrots, turnips and celery; 1 chopped onion; 3 cups milk; water; 1 bay leaf; salt; pepper.

Cook the vegetables and seasonings in just enough water to cover until tender. Add more water during the cooking if necessary. Add the milk, and heat. Serve at once with toasted crackers.

Rice with Mushrooms
1 cup rice; 1/2 pound mushrooms; 1/4 cup butter; 1/2 tablespoon salt; 1/2 cup milk or stock; salt and pepper.
Boil rice in salted water, drain and put into a ring mold. Set in hot water. Wash mushrooms and slice the caps and tender portion of stems. Boil the rest of the stems ten minutes in one cup of water and strain for stock. Sauté the mushrooms in the butter, stir in the flour and add the milk and stock. Season and cook until thick and smooth. Turn rice out of mold on to platter and fill center with mushrooms.

Bread Omelet
1/2 cup bread crumbs; 4 eggs; 1/4 cup milk; 1 tablespoon butter; salt, pepper.
Soak the bread crumbs 15 minutes in milk. Beat the yolks of the eggs and seasoning, add to the bread crumbs, and fold in the beaten whites. Pour into a hot buttered pan and cook slowly. When brown on the bottom put in a slow oven 300° F. to set. Fold and turn out on hot platter.

Style Trend For Windows

Net curtains in a new Georgian period design here soften the formality of the over-draperies and reflect the gracious atmosphere of the room.

THE well-dressed window, like the well-dressed woman, keeps pace with style. And in style details make up the correct whole. In curtains these all-important points are design, color, mesh and arrangement. With these satisfactorily solved, the window becomes, literally, well-dressed.

Heretofore glass curtains have been a difficult problem in carrying out the "period" room treatment. The fact that net curtains are hung straight against the pane stresses the design. If the motif is alien to the furnishings and wall-treatment, it spoils the unity of the room. If it is "just something neutral," the room becomes commonplace.

Net curtains authentically styled to period interiors are now seen in the shops in a considerable variety of designs. The ever-popular Colonial interior, for instance, will be enhanced by curtains featuring historic motifs. A variety of such timely designs have appeared "roughly" in a natural color that simulates the unbleached linens associated with those early days. Or for the home in the English country house manner, there are designs in a new shade known as "pongee" to recreate the charm of Georgian days.

The new patterns seem sufficiently varied to meet all tastes and lighting requirements. Where wall-paper of pictorial interest is used, for instance, a more set pattern is required for contrast. For the room where daylight is precious, there are designs in light tracery. Still other patterns grow heavier in design toward the bottom so that an objectionable view may be concealed.

The usual mesh is ten point; that is to say, there are ten threads to the inch.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

To hasten the cooking of vegetables add a small pinch of baking soda to the water.
In making rhubarb, cherry or any berry pie that is very juicy, try beating an egg light, and mixing in the sugar, required by the fruit; add a little flour, mix thoroughly, and then bake as usual. In this way excess juice will be in the pie and not in the bottom of the oven.
Cutting bread lengthwise instead of across saves about two-thirds of the waste, especially when sandwiches are to be cut in fancy shapes.
When making egg custard pies, always heat the milk to the boiling point before mixing with the eggs. If this rule is followed, the undercrust will be crisp.

Ideas Worth Money

The hook and eye, the safety pin, the curling pin, the snap fastener, the screw stopper for bottles, the egg slicer, the apple corer—all these things which are used daily in tens of millions of homes throughout the world, which cost but a few cents to make, and a few more cents to buy—they have all been the result of a sudden idea, and they have nearly all made fortunes for their inventors.

Viking Ship's Voyage

A Viking sail boat named Roald Amundsen, an exact copy of the early used by Eric the Red and other early explorers, made the trip across the ocean from Palos, Spain, to Havana, Cuba, in 42 days, during the months of March and April, 1930.

CANNED ASPARAGUS AND RHUBARB ARE
SAVORY IN WINTERTry Mixing Rhubarb And Raisins in Pie; It's Delicious

If you are fortunate enough to have a large asparagus bed, why not preserve some of that delicious fresh greenness for winter use? And if your rhubarb row is just "rearin' to go," an effective stopper to its energy is the quart jar. Can it, and seal it tight for loggy days ahead!

Asparagus.
Asparagus for canning must be fresh and tender. Select tips of uniform size and maturity, and wash. Cut into lengths according to containers to be used. Scrape off scales, tough outer skins and hard ends and tie in bundles large enough for one jar.

Immerse the lower ends in boiling water and leave them immersed five minutes, then the entire stalks, leaving them in one to three minutes longer.

Cold dip, drain, pack neatly, tips up, in hot sterilized jars. Add salt and cover with boiling water. Loosely seal, sterilize two hours in boiling water bath. Remove as soon as time is up. Tighten covers, invert to test, seal and cool.

Canned Rhubarb.
Rhubarb may be canned raw by simply packing clean, cut stalks into jars, and completely filling jar with cold water. The sealed jars should be stored in a cool, dry place.

Oven Canned Rhubarb.
Wash fresh, tender rhubarb, and without peeling skin, cut into inch pieces. Pack in hot sterilized jars, cover with hot syrup (three parts sugar to two parts water) to within one inch of the top. After partially sealing, place in shallow pan in oven, which has been heated to 325 degrees Fahrenheit. Process at 275 degrees for 40 minutes.

Canned Baked Rhubarb.
Wash, cut into 1/2 inch lengths. For each quart of rhubarb add one cup sugar, and bake in a covered dish until tender. Seal immediately in hot jars.

Rhubarb Sauce.
Wash and slice rhubarb without peeling, add a little water and boil up once, or until thoroughly soft. Add sugar to taste, stir thoroughly, and turn out fire, allowing rhubarb to remain on stove until cool. Less sugar is used than when it is boiled with the rhubarb.

Rhubarb-Raisin Pie.

Prepare pie-crust. Mix together one cup of sugar and one tablespoon of flour. Spread most of it on the bottom crust. Use two parts rhubarb to one part seeded, well-separated raisins, and place on crust. Spread with remainder of sugar-flour mixture. A smaller amount of sugar is required with raisins, as they provide sweetness.

Rhubarb Conserve.
Boil together four quarts finely cubed rhubarb, four cups sugar, one orange and lemon cut fine, one cup nut meats. Seal in glass jars. Pineapple or cherry might be substituted for orange or lemon.

TOPPY'S TRAVELS

Synopsis: Toppo leaves home to follow his canary. After many adventures, Mr. Frog and Toppo, the dewdrop, cause the Cushions to fight the Pillows, who have invaded the land of the Cloud-Queen. The Pillows, however, seem to be winning from the Cushions, so Toppo decides to train an army of the Cloud-people. Continue the story:

Toppo looked impatiently at Mr. Frog sprawled on the grass in deep slumber, but he knew it would be no use attempting to waken him, so he ate the food Mr. Frog had given him, and also lay down among the leaves.

He did not expect to sleep, but the next thing that he knew, Mr. Frog was shaking him roughly and grumbling, "A fine soldier you would make. Wake up!"

Toppo jumped up hastily, rubbed his eyes and said, "I'm awake. I'm ready. What shall I do?"
"Here is your sword, now listen carefully," Mr. Frog warned, as Toppo pranced excitedly about.

"The coast is clear. You will go to Mist valley, and wait there until the Cloud-soldiers come to you. Then you can show us if you know anything about training an army."

"But where is Mist valley, and how will the Cloud-people know that I am there?" Toppo asked.

"Just control yourself, and I will tell you," Mr. Frog snapped. "You are going to help me. He will go to every community, and tell them where you are. You can do this without being caught by the Pillows."

"How long do you suppose it will be before all the Cloud-soldiers come?" asked the boy.

"I never suppose. I think things out, and then I know," Mr. Frog informed him.

formed him.

"Do you? Well, then, what do you know?"

"So many things that it would take two lifetimes to relate them."

"I don't care," Toppo cried. "You know what I want to know. Why won't you tell me?"

"Oh, I'm just getting you into a fighting mood," Mr. Frog explained carelessly. "Now, if you're mad enough, I'll tell you how to get to Mist valley."

Toppo listened closely to the directions. He repeated them over and over, until he could almost see the road in his mind. Then he asked again, "But how long will I have to wait for them?"

Mr. Frog winked an eye at him. "If I told you, you probably would leave the day before."

"Are you still trying to make me angry?" Toppo asked, with difficulty controlling his temper.

"Why, no," drawled the Frog, in a surprisingly mild voice. "I never try to do things. I do them."

"And so will I!" vowed Toppo.

He started for the door, but Mr. Frog cried, "Hold on. There is no hurry. Let Toppo get a good start first."

"But you said the coast was clear. It may not be, later on."

"That is true," Mr. Frog agreed, but his eyes held a teasing gleam.

"I'm going," stated Toppo.

"Where is the key?" Mr. Frog reminded him.

Toppo went to the Queen to get the key.

"Be careful, General Toppo," she bade him, and unlocked the door for him. "Good-bye."

"Good-bye," and Toppo was off on another adventure.

TURN A FAUCET
for water that's always
HOT

Running hot water is no longer a convenience for city women only. An electric water heater in the farm home provides all the hot water you need for doing dishes, cleaning, cooking, laundering and bathing. Just turn the hot water faucet. Electricity keeps a tankful always ready at the right temperature.

Hot water is a necessity, also, in the dairy barn. Perfect sanitation is possible only when there's plenty of hot water for sterilizing milk pails and dairy equipment.

Two Types of
ELECTRIC WATER HEATERS

An automatic electric water heater (pictured above) for farms with running water. Keeps a tankful always hot. Insulation around the tank minimizes heat loss. Can be installed in the kitchen.

A "gravity" type electric water heater (pictured right) for farms without running water. You fill it and water is quickly heated to a high temperature. Especially handy in dairy barns.

For additional information on electric water heaters we invite you to write or phone your nearest Public Service Store. Without obligating you in any way, we'll be glad to send one of our men specially assigned to farm electrification to talk to you.

Early Use of Cigarettes

There seems to be no official information about the introduction of cigarette smoking into the United States. It apparently spread to the United States from England in 1865. England was introduced to cigarette smoking during the Crimean war by Russian troops.

The Best We Can Do

Griffin Shows Development of Meat Industry

First Great Meat Packing Plant Was Begun by Eastern Boy

The first installment of the fifth prize essay, "A Great Industry Based Upon the Preparation and Distribution of Consumers' Food Products from Raw Farm Produce," by Fred Griffin, local boy who entered the national essay contest sponsored by Swift and Company of Chicago, follows.

It has been within the last thirty or forty years that the farmer has taken the raising of poultry and livestock from what was before considered a side line, and placed it into the most important part of his farm plan. He also realized that the raising of livestock and practicing rotation of crops, was the only way in which he could maintain the fertility of his soil.

As diversified farming came more into existence, the need for markets and transportation of farm products from the points of production to the place of consumption was very great. This was realized by Gustavus Franklin Swift, and in the year 1868, he began the development of the great Swift and Company meat industry.

Began Working at 14. At the age of 14, he began his work by working for his brother at Barnstable, Mass., where he gained his experience.

In 1850-60 he established his first market in Eastham, Mass., as a partner of a Boston retailer. As the raising of farm products moved westward, Mr. Swift also moved to the West, first to Albany, then to Buffalo, and finally, in 1875, to Chicago. It was not until 1877 that he became full owner of his market. Already he could see that shipping the products of the West to the East, and have it reach the consumer in good condition was a big problem. With a fast growth of business, and the need of good transportation, he developed his first refrigerator car, in which perishable meats could be shipped from the West to the East in good condition.

Partnership with outstanding local dealers was also necessary before he could sell his products in the East. U. S. Largest Meat Exporter. After Mr. Swift's death in 1903 his business has increased until today the United States produces and exports more meat than any other nation.

Most of the meat is consumed at home, yet the United States is the largest exporter of pork and lard. Although England gets one-half of the world's exports of meat, Germany, Holland, France and Belgium are large consumers. Cured beef, oleo, and tallow are the only cattle products which are exported. Great Britain consumes three-fourths of United States exports of hams and shoulders, one-half of its bacon, and one-fourth of its lard.

In the United States there are about 1,200 packers of meats. There are also many thousands of local butchers, as well as a multitude of farmers who butcher and prepare their own meats, all helping to form a strong competition of prices.

Swift and Company is one of the largest packers of the United States, and therefore is able to compete with the low prices.

About 55 to 60 per cent of a steer, 75 per cent of a hog, and 50 per cent of a lamb is converted into meat, pork and lard or mutton respectively.

The remainder in many cases goes to waste, while Swift and Company with its many plants and large business is able to convert this waste into valuable products.

All Parts of Animals Used.

Swift and Company cures the hides into leather. The select furs are made into oleo for the making of oleomargarine, and stearin used for making various cooking compounds. The bones are used for the making of knife handles, yield tallow, and glue, while the residue is used for bone meal and commercial fertilizers. The blood also helps to make fertilizers and pharmaceutical preparations for the drug trade. Meat scraps are made into poultry feeds, and the hoof used for buttons. The hair is dried and washed, later used in the manufacture of cushions, mattresses, and brushes.

Swift and Company manufactures to the finished stage, tankage, crackling, fertilizers, soap, glue, and gelatin. Others are manufactured to the first merchantable stage and sold.

Quality Is First Consideration.

Although Swift and Company does business in nearly every town in the United States and Canada, they are more interested in the quality of goods handled, rather than quantity. Due to this fact it is necessary to have both government and plant inspectors. All condemned products are used only for products other than food. After inspected, the meat is washed and placed in a cooling room, where it is left for 36 hours, or until all of the animal heat is dissipated.

It is also necessary to inspect the animals on the hoof, and provide cars and pens which are clean and disinfected.

Swift and Company requires all of the workmen to wear clean garments. Floors and tables are washed every day, tools sterilized thoroughly, and water, soap, towels, sterilizing solutions, and other necessary equipment provided to carry on their work in the most sanitary condition.

Swift and Company maintains a trained staff to make sure that refrigerator cars are built correctly and kept in repair, cleaned with steam and cooled before leaving the plant, properly routed, and arrive on schedule. This is very important, as there are over 100,000 carloads of Swift and Company products leave its plants each year, each car making about twenty-two trips, and covering a distance of about 31,000 miles each.

Handsome Jack AND HIS NOSE

Well s'r, it's a funny yarn that I'm goin' to spin today. Years ago I was bo'n on a neat little craft named Th' Golden Horn. One of th' crew was a sailor we called Handsome Jack, just because he was so dingbusted homely. That feller had th' biggest nose I've ever seen, and he was ready for a row if anyone made a remark about that nose. One day he was goin' for'ard when a voice sang out, "Wot a nose!"

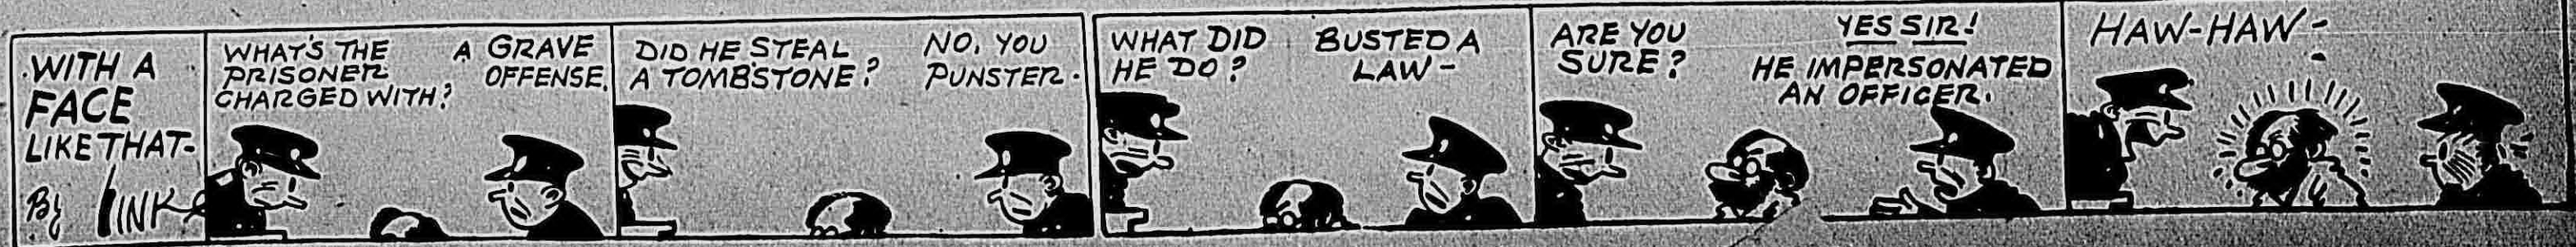

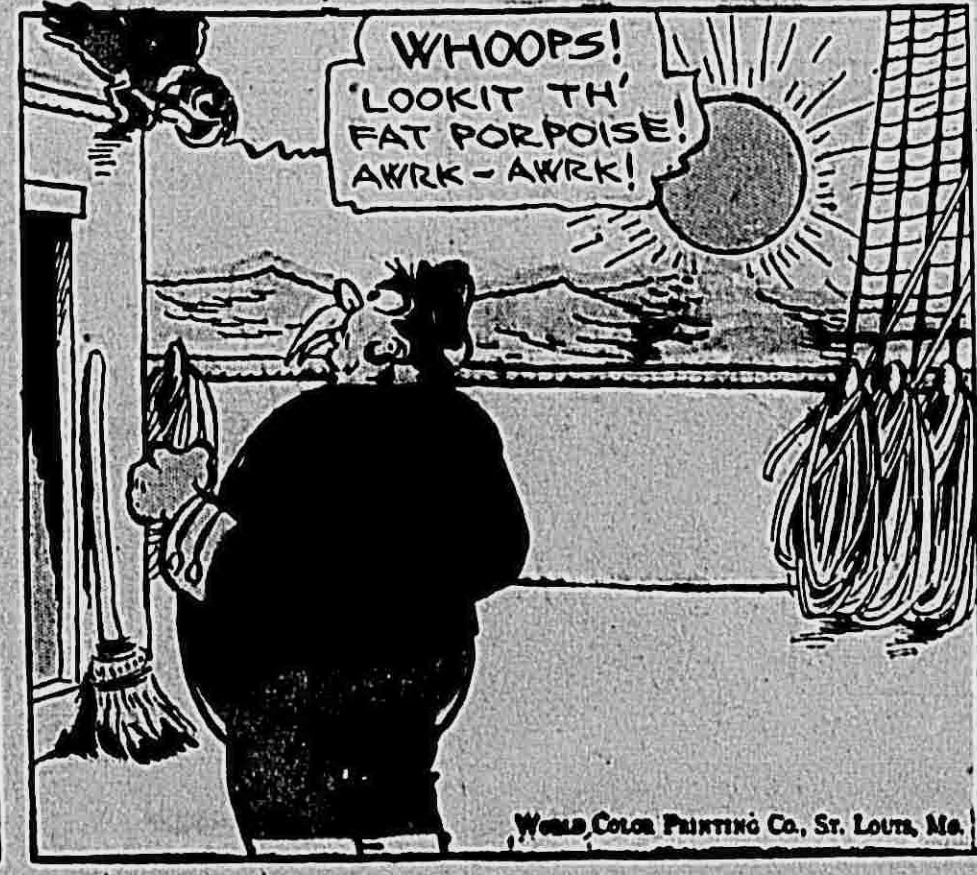

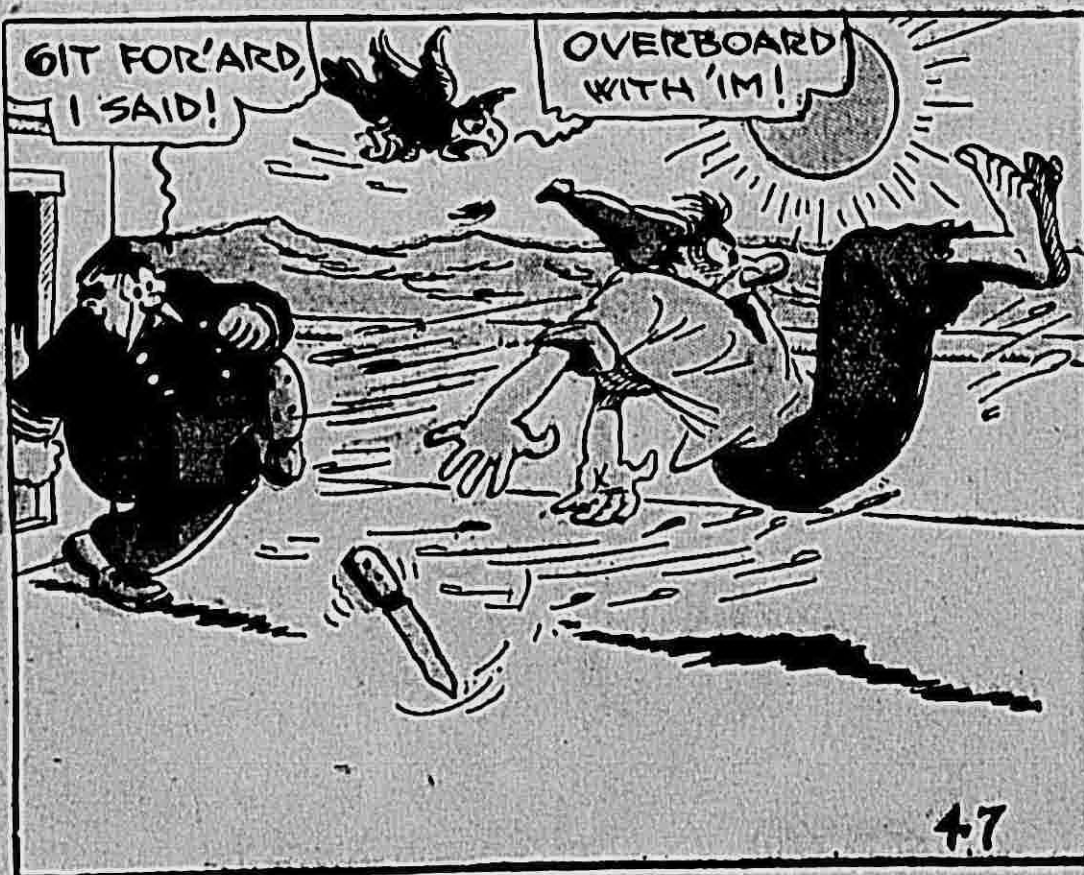

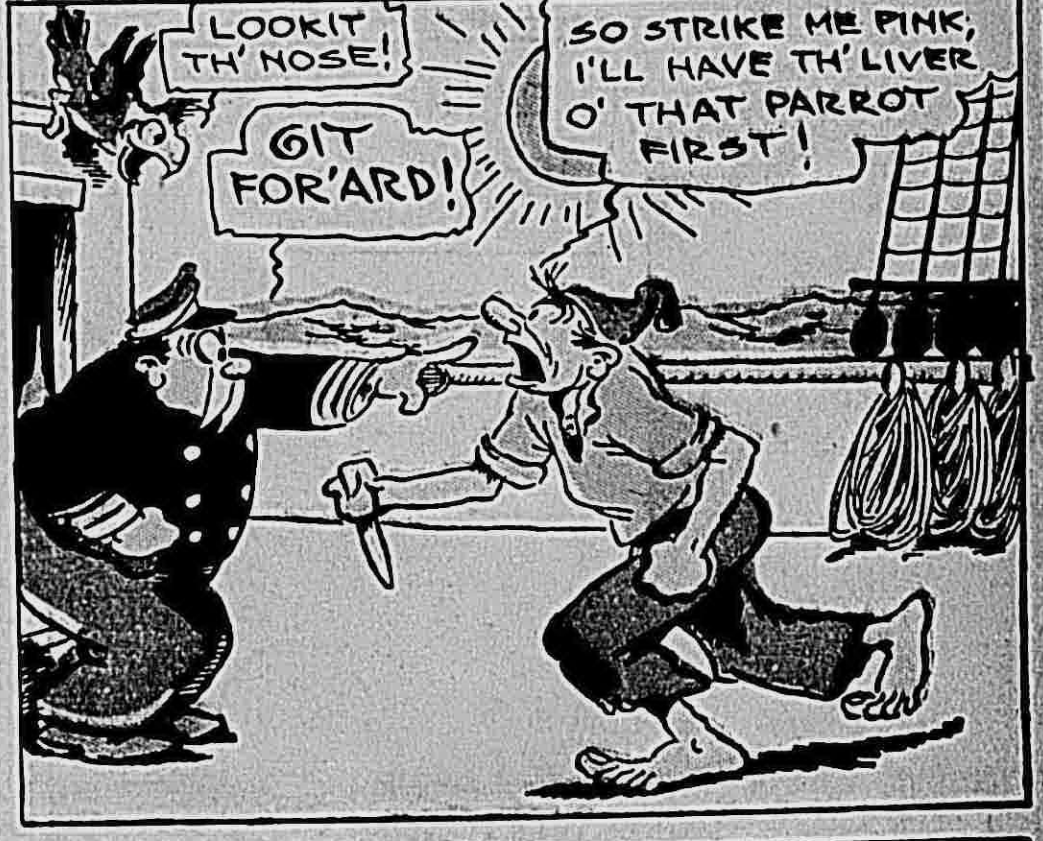

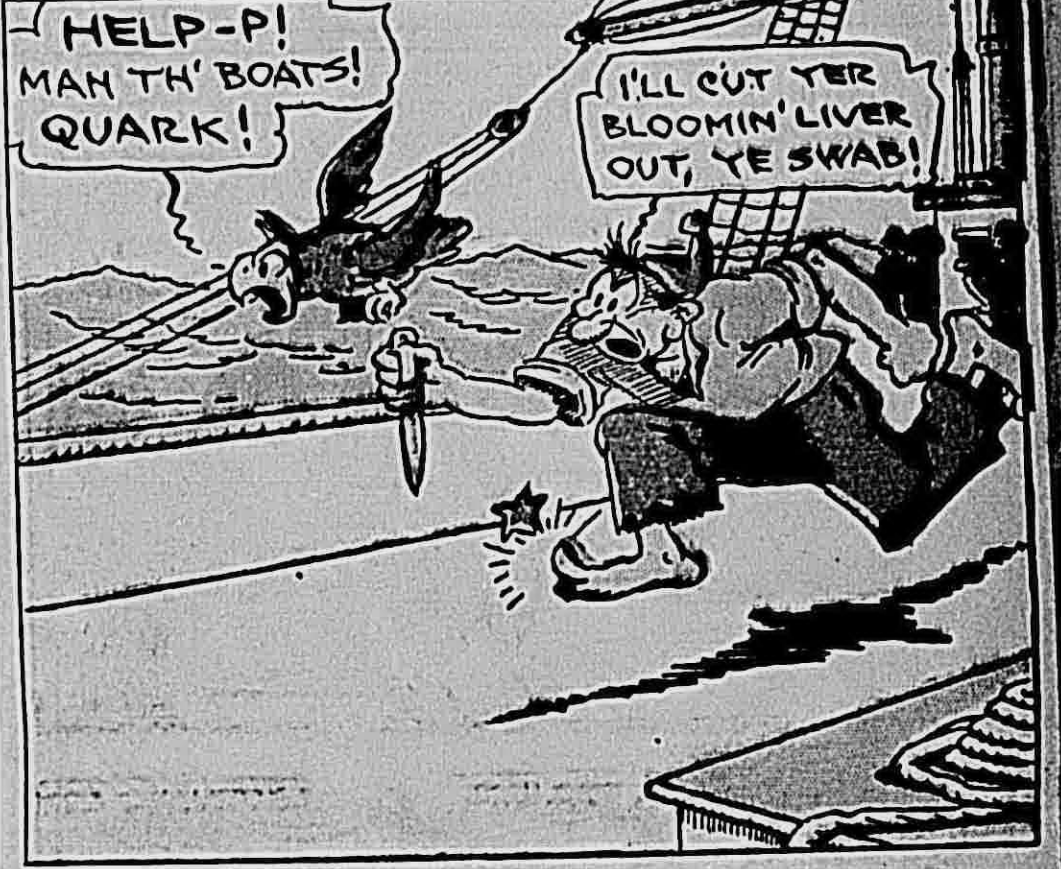

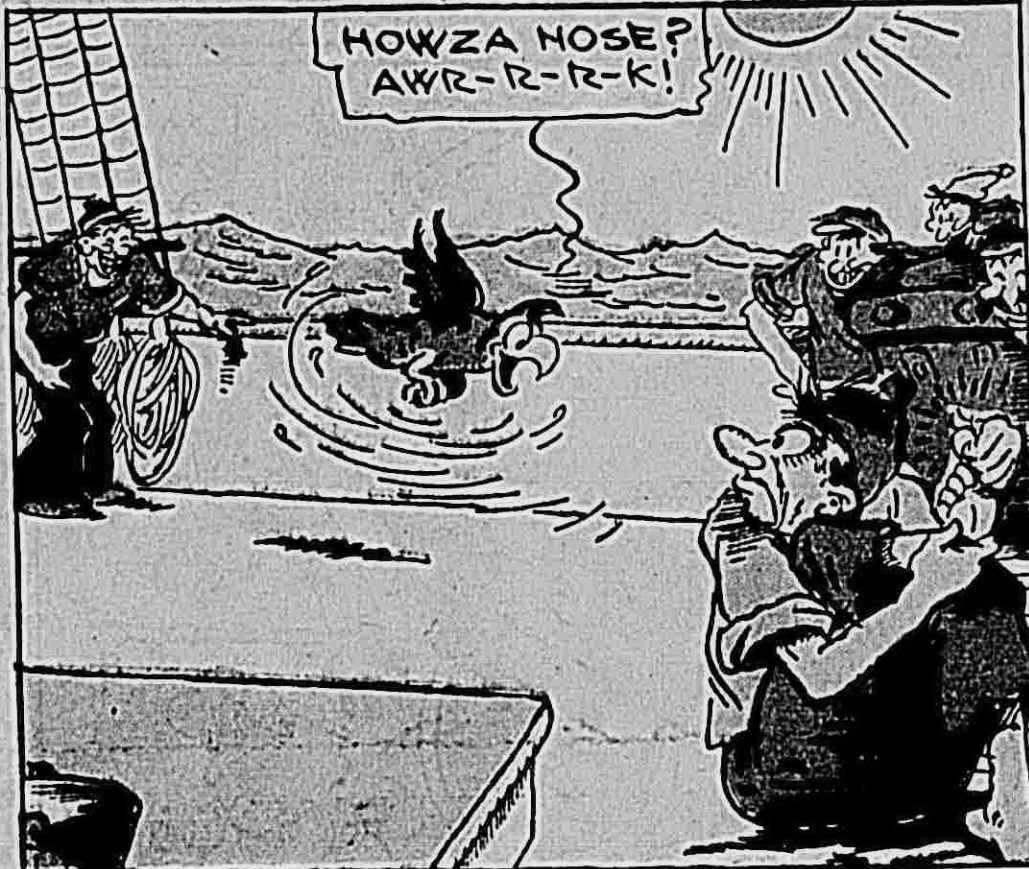

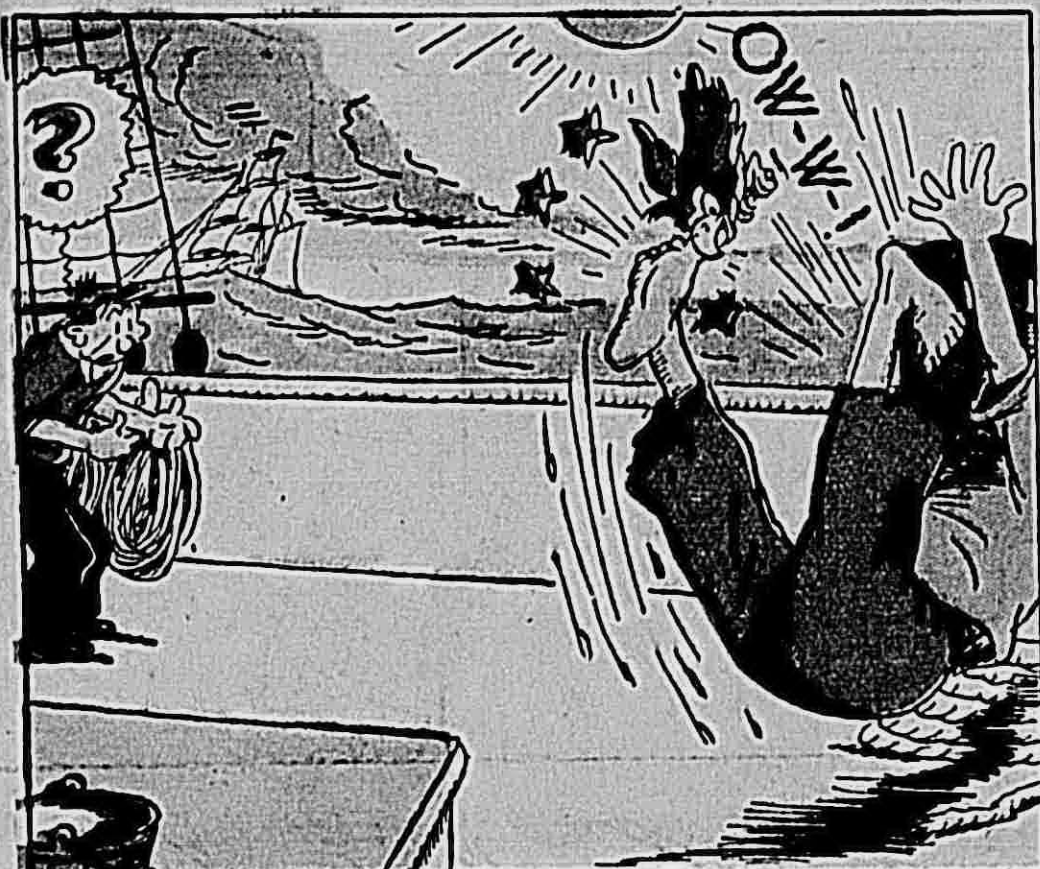

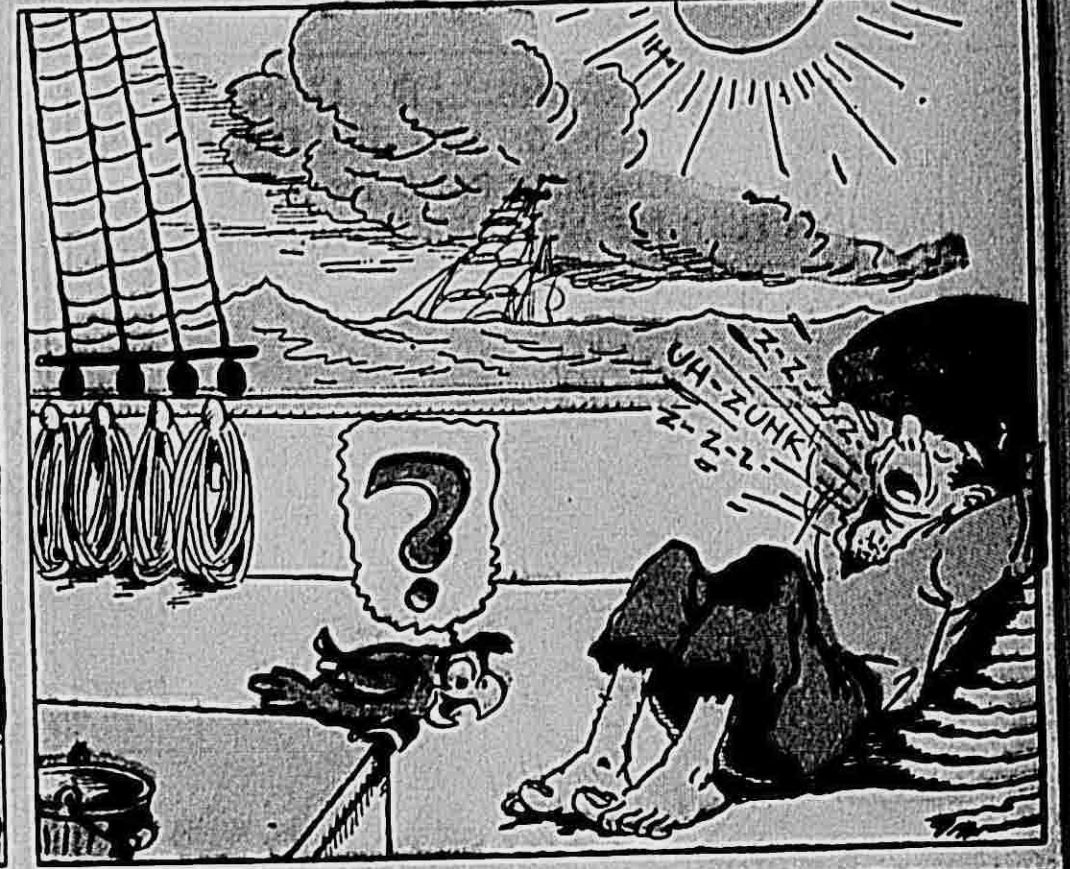

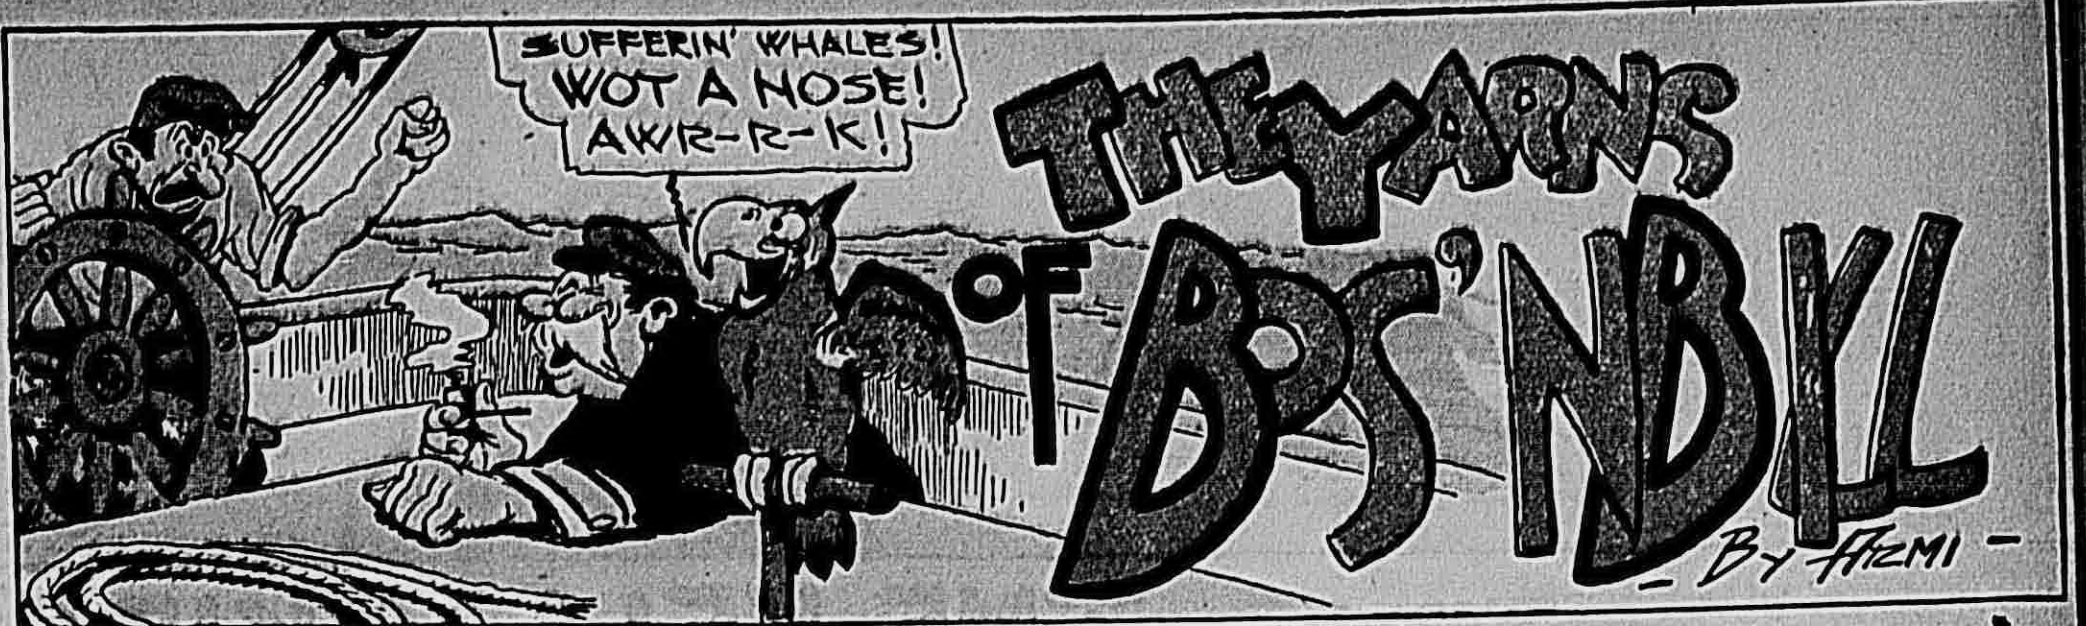

Handsome Jack was mad enough to bite a capstan-bar in two when he saw it was th' skipper's parrot that had sung out about his nose. But it was later, when th' parrot found Handsome Jack asleep and nipped his toe, that th' real row started.

With a knife in his hand Jack took after th' parrot, roarin' that he'd have th' liver of that dodgast green swab. Just as Jack was reachin' for th' parrot's tail th' skipper stepped out on deck and ordered Jack to get for'ard. "But th' bloomin' swab of a parrot nipped me toe," growled Jack. Well, he was turnin' to go for'ard when th' parrot yelled: "Look at th' nose. Quar-r-r-k!"

Handsome Jack out with his knife and made for th' parrot. The next minute he was sailin' through th' air, with th' skipper's boot just behind him. Well s'r, here's where th' funny part of th' yarn comes in. Th' skipper was pretty fat. He was just about to step into th' cabin when th' parrot cocked a mean eye at him and squawked: "Lookit th' fat porpoise!"

There was a broom leanin' against th' deck-house. When th' skipper finished with that parrot th' critter looked as though he's been through a China Sea typhoon.
